

Ceramcoat® Shades of Color Guide

Highlighting and Shading with Delta Ceramcoat Acrylics

Many decorative painting techniques use a basecoat or main color with shading and highlighting colors to create the depth and dimension that characterizes decorative painting.

While shading and highlighting is a simple concept, choosing the correct shading and highlighting colors can be confusing.

We've created this chart which specifies the shading and highlighting colors used most often for each of the creamy Delta Ceramcoat Acrylic Paints.

- BASECOAT—the medium value between highlight and shading
- SHADING—a darker value than the basecoat
- HIGHLIGHTING—a lighter value than the basecoat

There is often more than one shade or highlight color that can be used with a particular medium value color (basecoat). Where possible we have listed the alternatives. Use this chart as a guide, but don't be afraid to try different combinations. Don't forget Delta Ceramcoat Metallic Gleams™ for accentuating and embellishing.

Chart Guide:

- Colors listed with a slash (/) between them denotes that either color may be used (Dusty Plum/Napa Wine).
- Two colors listed with a plus (+) denotes the mixing of those two colors (Cinnamon + Black).
- When mixing two colors, an asterisk (*) before the color denotes use only a small amount of color when mixing (Cinnamon + *Black).
- When mixing two colors, 1:1 denotes mix equal parts (Cinnamon + Black (1:1)).
